TOBACCO

On the Stalk is Being Delivered.

The warm damp weather of Monday and Tuesday put tobacco in fine order and it has been coming in to the warehouses in abundance on the stalk. Some of the farmers will have tobacco money for Christmas, which is very much needed now. Large deliveries of hay are also being made.

SHOPPERS

Have Been Plentiful All The Week.

The streets have been pretty full of people during the week and the stores have been doing a fine business. Pembroke people were here in large numbers and other towns along the railroads have been well represented. From now on to the greatest of sales days, Christmas Eve, everybody will be rushed.

IN KENTUCKY

Mulligan's Famous Poem Beautifully Illustrated.

Miss Fannie B. Rogers has illustrated J. H. Mulligan's famous poem "In Kentucky" with a series of appropriate pictures selected from various sources, making the whole into a velvet, which she has sent to Mrs. Annie Kennedy Brown, of Meridian, Miss., formerly of this city. It is a beautiful work of art, both in its compilation and its binding. It contains the entire poem in pen lettering.

Through 17 Inches of Oak.

One of the Krag-Jorgenson rifles used by Co. H. was accidentally dropped and discharged in the doorway of the hall at the court house yesterday morning before day. The steel bullet went through a solid oak door facing 7 inches, thence into another similar one 8 inches and thence diagonally through the oak door two inches thick, struck the brick wall and glanced upward and out of the window in the Clerk's private office.

FALSE

Alarm of Fire on South Main Street.

About 7 o'clock Monday evening another false alarm of fire was turned in. The soot in one of Dr. T. W. Blakey's chimneys burned out but the department did not leave its quarters. Fire Chief Hester was on hand and saw what had caused the alarm to be turned in. He went to the phone to tell his firemen to remain in doors, but Dr. Blakey had anticipated him and the department was saved from making a long and useless run.

SOLDIERS OF THE LEGION

Arrived From Louisville on The 10 o'clock Train Tuesday Morning.

CARRELL IN CHARGE.

Col. Haldeman Came With Them And Returned Home Tuesday Night.

The company of Louisville soldiers arrived Tuesday morning and were marched to the court house and quartered temporarily in the circuit court room. They were reviewed by Adjt. Gen. Johnston just before he returned to Frankfort. Co. D. was relieved from duty as soon as Co. H. arrived, much to the disappointment of the youthful fighters who had been on duty for ten days. The local soldier boys are the pride of Hopkinsville and they were full of the fighting spirit from the time they were ordered out by Gov. Beckham. Gen. Johnston paid them high praise while in the city, but said it would be his policy when handling local troubles to use troops from some other locality, not that the local companies were just as good soldiers but because the men themselves should be without any sympathies on either side to interfere with their duties.
